

Introduction of Members of the National Assembly and their clients to Hajj (pilgrimage) and required coordination in the process

The Achievements of the State Ministry for Parliamentary for Afghanistan in the first six months of the 1398, Fiscal year

Sixth Achievement

One of the main elements of a fine management is reporting. If it is done in a timely manner, without delay, it will not only give the necessary instructions to the leadership in making the decisions, but will also remove the obstacles that avoid excellent governance.

The State Ministry for Parliamentary Affairs strengthens the relationships of the three branches of the state by acting as a bridge especially, between the Government and Judicial branch. Therefore, the SMPA provides reports to the President about the weekly and monthly general gatherings of the National Assembly and their Commissions.

The State Ministry for Parliamentary Affairs, in 1398, Fiscal year has organized reports of (86) general meetings and has sent them to the President of the Islamic Republic of Afghanistan, which is considered a big achievement for the Ministry.